

Dave's Seasonal Defense Formula

- Cold symptom support
- Immune support

Seasonal Defense Formula is a synergistic blend of digestive and immune system herbs. When these systems are not functioning at healthy levels, it is easier for us to fall ill to colds and flu.

Chinese medicine talks about Wei Chi which interpreted means the immune system. When we improve the immune strength, we are less likely to be affected by colds and flues. These herbs help our wei chi to be stronger by supporting the health of our digestive and immune systems.

Seasonal defense is especially good to support sinus, respiratory and gastro-intestinal systems. This formula should not interfere with prescription medication. Always consult your physician.

Formula includes: Pleurisy root, Elecampane, Eupatorium perf (Boneset), Ginger, Myrrh, Yarrow, and Echinacea angustifolia.
